Lands on San Juan Island.

It would seem by the following, which we were right in assuming that the publie notice which had been posted up in sundry places on the island of San Juan, of allegiance to the United States, they institutions, which has always been charwould incur the risk of having their lands the Straits. And now that the banner of St. George has ceased to float on the ornment, and ask its. advice and assistout of place to advise our provincial

Surely, had the boot HE Deen on the other foot, our American to take any unfair advantage of British fuseness of poetry and tinsel, or make both subjects on the said islands who have donor and receiver inseparable for life.

"placed precisely on the same footing ones to be merciful, and those who receive and enjoy the same rights as other set-O' blers in other portions of the unsurveyed domain of the United States." Commenting on the action taken by the Legislature of this Province in reference to this subject, the Courier says:

I. It is not true that Governor Ferry has made any decision of any nature whatever with reference to the status of settlers on the Islands who are British subjects. This we state on the authority of Governor Ferry himself.

ATENTI. He has made no statement that it was necessary for British subjects, being settlers on those Islands, to abjure their allegiance to the British crown and become U. S. citizens before the 6th of January, to maintain their rights in the soil. This we state on the same authority. this Territory neither has nor claims any authority whatever in adjudicating the title to lands or interfering in the disposal of the soil. Our land system makes it no part of his duty, but delegates Galvanized Iron Buckets, these duties to other officers, who obtain jurisdiction in the premises, whenever the land is surveyed, which has not yet been

DOIV. Until the land is surveyed, the is the peaceful possession of such lands SPROAT & wharf Street, 20th January 1978 ively, whether they are British subjects or American citizens mold V. After survey it is the duty of the settler within ninety days after the KOLT / suthenticated plats of such surveys have been filed in the U.S. Land Office, to acquire title to the same by filing the necessary statements, &c., under the homestead and pre-emption laws, in the U.S. Land Office. In order to acquire title under these laws the set ler must either be a citizen of the United States. or must have declared his intention to become such. If he refuses to do so he forfeits his possessory right, unless future special legislation by Congress should provide otherwise. VI. Governor Ferry, acting purely it a private capacity, did, during his recent visit to the Islands and in answer to personal inquiries made by settlers, state in brief these provisions of law, but the kind impated to him, nor any other, the same being clearly without the scope of his official duties or authority.

VII. If these British or American settlers desire to acquire title to their lands they will have abundant opportunity to our land laws, if they are located on even numbered sections after the survey is made, and if they have located on lands granted by Congress to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, we are authorized by Gen. J. W. Sprague, the General Agent of the company, who is now in Olympia, to state that the comtions, which are everywhere alike in their operation, enabling all settlers upon railroad lands to acquire title thereto, by the payment of a fixed price, ascertained by an impartial appraisement irrespective of improvements made by settlers thereon; that the company will grade their lands ing to the character of the soil, its adaptability for farming, the kind of timber growing thereon, its location, &c, and then fix a certain price per acre as to the modus operandi of acquiring reduititle. Thus it will be seen that the British settlers on the Islands now living on American soil, within the jurisdiction of the United States and subject to their laws, are placed precisely on the same footing and enjoy the same rights as other settlers in other portions of the unsurveyed domain of the United States If they "decline to forswear their allegiance to the crown and naturally look to the British Government for that protection which they have a right to expect," they cannot in the same breath demand protection from the American DRESS MAKER. Government, which demands an oath of fealty and allegiance as the price of conferring the liberal benefits of its land laws. And right here we are tempted to British subjects do not thank the Provincial Legislature of npon each class, which will not be departed from in any instance, and that the British Columbia for their interference in this matter, for if our information is correct, nearly all of them have cheerfully declared their intention to become citizens of the United States before Mr. Seavey, the Clerk of the United States District Court of Port Townsend, who recently visited we comy from the Olympia Courier, that San Juan for that purpose. And we would also remark that the action of the Provincial Legislature was ill advised, and based upon wrong information, and anjustly reflects upon the Governor of notifying British settlers that unless this Territory, and shows the same igwithin six days from the date of said norance and the same supercilious connotice, said British settlers took the oath tempt for American laws and American ity whatever from the Governor of islands as an emblem of British sov Washington Territory.
